North Star moved up to the dollar mark on a buyer 20 and closed strong with reports of a decision of the directors to increase the tonnage as soon as possible. The opening was strong at 34. Merger also improved on statements that the drift had passed through the fault and was looking better. Reports of good assays in the Midway did not bring out any bids or offers as the disposition is to hold on to the stock until the shaft reaches a lower level.

The following are the closing stock quotations, and the record of the day's sales, as received from the San Francisco stock exchange this afternoon by Broker H. E. Epstein:

"BLACK BART" IS AGAIN FREE AND REFORMED

MARQUETTE, Mich., July 12.—

"Black Bart" Holzhay, whose criminal career was one of the most spectacular ever recorded in the United States, was released yesterday from the Marquette prison after having served 24 years of a life sentence imposed on him in 1889 for murder. His release is made possible by the legislation enacted two years ago, which extends the benefits of the parole law to convicts undergoing life sentence.

Holzhay is now 47 years old. When he was received at the prison he was illiterate and possessed a record as a desperado, stage coach and train robber. He gave the prison much trouble during the first few years, but following a surgical operation his character changed completely and he became a model prisoner. He has since given himself a good education. For many years he has been the prison librarian and photographer.

Because of his swarthy appearance and ill kept beard Holzhay gained the name of "Black Bart," the bandit, and under that sobriquet he became notorious as the most picturesque criminal in the history of Wisconsin and Michigan—the terror of two states. His exploits in the woods of northern Michigan rivaled those of Jesse James. A peaceful lumberjack for a long while, he suddenly broke into a series of crimes which continued until the mention of his name struck terror to the hearts of travelers in the north woods. Stages were stopped, one after the other on their trips between lumber camps and the town and their passengers held up, the mail sacks rifled and every article of value stolen.

Flinding stage coaches too tame, Holzhay took to holding up trains, going through the coaches and robbing every passenger. Large rewards were placed on his head by the government and the railroads, but he was fearless and was not captured. The rewards grew as his depredations continued until they totaled the sum of $2,500. Every man in the woods was watching for him, but when Holzhay appeared in their camps and demanded food they feared to lay hands upon him.

Holzhay's career of crime continued un molested, banks, stores, trains, stage coaches and private houses alike falling into his hands and getting out again with less than they possessed before. Finally Holzhay planned to hold up the stage which passed Lake Gogebic, learning that several Chicago bankers, among them A. E. Fleischbein, were to be on board. He stopped the coach and demanded money from the bankers. Fleischbein reached his hand into his pocket but instead of cash he pulled out a revolver. Before he could shoot the bandit fired and Fleischbein fell, mortally wounded. A second man tried to resist, but Holzhay shot him also, searched the men and got away.

The authorities of two states took
